HE citizens of the Junior Republic are not worrying much about the money question. They have all the work they can do and they are paid for this work in the brightest little ti dollars you ever saw. Those tin dollars buy everything that's for sale. Times are good up there in the green fields at Freeville. Times are so good that these enterprisin little merchants who went into business last week have had to mark up their stock of goods to keep a hat or a cap or suit of underwear in the shop

Those three little merchants are making money so fast that they have to go to the bank twice a day to deposit it. There's a story that goes with those merchants-a good story, and one that makes the world seem brighter when you're hearing it. Listen: Some of the rich merchants of New York City heard about the little Republic, and they thought back to the days when they first started in business, and they didn't stop at thinking. They ordered a few packing cases of goods sent straight to the Journal, in trust for the plucky little merchants.

Last week a great car load of things went whizzing up to the Republic. When the pacink cases arrived the whole settlement turned out to see the display.

There was an auction sale at the big general office in the little wooden court house. The three little merchants were not merchants then. They were

The three little merchants were not merchants then. They were laborers. They had been at the Republic just long enough to learn thrift and enterprire, and they clubbed together and put every cent of the money they had saved out of their day's wages into a big stock of hats, caps and sundries.

If the generous men who sent those goods could have seen those three boys making shelves, sawing out a counter, painting a sign and finally displaying their goods, they would have been glad to be alive.

The government gained quite ahandsome revenue from the auction. The merchants are started in a carer of prosprity, and the citizens have had a chance to spend some of the money they have been working so hard to earn.

Now there is a rival firm of merchants up there, and they want some clothing, boys' clothing, to seil. They have saved their money for weeks in the hope of getting a chance to "branch out."

Mrs. C. H. Haskins, of Sherman street, Brooklyn, sends word that she has some clothing ready to send. Who will make one of a club of tento join Mrs. Haskins in giving those merchants a start in life?

Send in your name and address and the Journal will send for the goods. Take the clothes your boy has outgrown. Take the clothes that are lying in the trunks up in the attic and giving the moths a glorious feast, send them to the plucky little merchants and help these friendless little fellows to get an honest living. They know what hard work and hard living means down on the Bowery. They know what hard work and hard living means down there, and there isn't a living creature on the strange old street we hear so much about that isn't willing to do something to help the courageous boys who are fighting the great fight against poverty alone.

Do you know anything about the Juvenile Protective League? No? This is the best time in the world to learn. The Juvenile Protective League is made up of boys who live down on the East Elde. They saw Colone! Waring and his men trying to keep the streets clean, and they went to Inspector Dre done.

They heard about the Junior Republic. They heard of it from boys who left the East Side to go there, and they know just what that Re—" does for friendless boys.

The Juvenile Protective League made up its mind to raise some money for the Republic. They've gone to work and organized just about the best entertainment that can be seen for money.

They have hired the Thalia Theatre down on the Bowery. It's a great big palace of a place, but the boys knew what they were doing when they hired it.

They hold their first rehearsal there to-day, and the doorkeepers and two or three policemen will be on hand to keep back the boys who want to pay money to go in just to see that rehearsal.

Any one who's in New York City next Thursday night and who misses that performance makes the mistake of his life. There's going to be music, singing, duets and quartets. There's going to be reciting. The boys are going to give the quarrel scene from Julius Caesar. There's going to be dancing, buck-wing, heel and toe dancing, and all the rest of the varieties that only an East Side boy knows.

The whole performance will wind up with a play written by a member of the Juvenile League and rehearsed, staged, acted and prompted by the boys.

Now if any theatre in any city on this Continent can offer a better

Now, if any theatre in any city on this Continent can offer a better of fare than that I'd like to be at that theatre on the first nights the year round.

The men about town have heard about Thursday night at the theatre on the Bowery and those boxes are going to go like hot cakes.

The whole house will be sold out before the doors open if New York knows what a good time really is, and there are those who say she does.

Tickets are on sale at 1122 Broadway. Junior Republic Bureau, at the Journal office downtown, and they will be on sale at all the principal Broadway hotels by this afternoon.

Don't wait till they're all gone. Buy up your box or your row of seats and take your friends down to the Bowery to get a glimpse of real life on the East Side.

The East Siders will be out in full force.

They know what this entertainment means in generosity, and they won't see any Tenth Ward enterprise fall flat for want of a little subestantial encouragement.

They know what this entertainment heads in generotry, and they won't see any Tenth Ward enterprise fall flat for want of a little sub-e stantial encouragement.

Chimmie Fadden's going to be there. He came up to the Republic office yesterday and bought a ticket.

If his name wasn't Fadden it ought to be. He had on a good, tight-fitting suit of fuzzy, purplish clothes, a scarlet neck-tie and a hat which Mr. Fadden would undoubtedly have called "dinkey."

"I come to get a couple o' seats fer de benefit," said Mr. Fadden. "Tm going to take me steady. I guess de show'll be all O. K., but I'm goin' to help along de kids. See? I wish't some one had a helped me when I was a kid."

Mr. Fadden would not hear of a 15 cent ticket, nor yet of a 25 cent ticket. He bought "two fifties" and went out, saying: "Say, I'll chase de gang dere to help 'em out."

So if you want to see Mr. Fadden and his friends you know just when, where and how to do it.

Wednesday night is going to be a big night for the fund. Mr. Amberg, of the Central Palace Roof Garden, is going to make that benefit a success, and a great, big booming success, too. There's going to be the best vaudeville performance at the Central Palace Wednesday night that's been given in New York since the word vaudeville came into hat's been given in New York since the word vaudeville came into Maggie Cline, Weber and Fields, John Kernell, Ross and Fenton, Maggie Cline, Weber and Fields, John Kernell, Ross and Fenton, the Rossie brothers, Wood and Shepard, Imogene Comar, Charles A. Burke, Lilly Post and Helene Mora.

How's that for a list of names?

All the indications point to an enormous success for the benefit performance to be given on the Roof Garden of the Grand Central Palace to-morrow (Wednesday) night. Never before has such a star list been gathered in one entertailment.

ance to be given on the Roof Garden of the Grand Central Palace to-morrow (Wednesday) night. Never before has such a star list been gathered in one entertainment.

Weber and Fields, whose mirth provoking powers have raised them to the foremost ranks of successful managers, and who have hitherto repeatedly refused to appear at open air performances, are so determined to appear at the Grand Central to-morrow night, that they postponed appointments of urgent importance in order to do their share to help raise the fund. They know from practical experience, the hardships which boys, who have to make their own way in the world are forced to endure, for not many years ago they were themselves poor boys of the lower East Side. From the several companies which are to be under their managerial control in the coming theatrical season, they have made excellent selections of entertainers to further evidence their interest in the benefit performance. They have secured the services of Charles J. Ross, Makel Fenton, John Kernell, and the Rossi Brothers for the occasion. Every one knows John Kernell, the king of curbstone chatterers and the best relater of humorous irish stories before the public; Ross and Fenton, those admirable artists whose travesties on the popular plays of the day are among the very best things seen in high class vandeville nowadays, and the Rossi Brothers, perfess gymnasits and acrobusts.

Wood and Shepard play on every conceivable musical instrument, and make the most forbidding looking things give forth melodious sounds.

Maggie Cline is sul generis. Imitators she has in overabundance; worthy rivals she has none. In the chorus which will aid her to thrown down McCloskey will be a score of well-known actors, whose disguises will be so uniquely picturesque that the big audience will find lots of fun in endeavoring to determine just who they are. Imagene Comar, a beautiful woman and a sweet sluger, has added in providing a novel feature for the entertainment. She is to sing a song bearing the title "Never

The four-story dwelling on lot 23x100 feet on the south side of Fifty-fourth street, 125 feet east of Madison avenue, has been conveyed by James R. Sutten and wife to Charles H. Ludington, Jr., as assignee, at a nominal consideration.

A lease of the St. James Hotel, at the southwest corner of Broadway and Twenty-sixth street, which has just been been sold to a company, which intends to erect a sixteen-story office building on the site, was filed in the Register's office yesterday. It is made by Thomas W. Pearsall and Everett P. Wheeler, trustees of the Paul Spofford estate, the late owner, to Gustav Possehl, and is for six years and five months at 170m $40,000 to $45,000 per annum. Gustav Possehl represents the men who were managing the hotel when it closed, and why he should record the lease at this time, months after it was made, is not known. The present owners of the St. James say it will not interfere with the building project.

Daniel T. Maguire sold to Henry Stillgebauer a vacant lot, 25x100 feet, at the northwest corner of the Boulevard and Minty-seventh street, for $40,000. It will be converted into a garden for cyclists.

In the New York Salesroom, at No. 111 Broadway, vesterday, Auctioneer William Kennelly adjourned for a week the foreclosure sale of the big eight-story factory covering the block front in the west side of Gouverneur street, between East Broadway and Division streets. The amount due on the property in mortgages, interest and costs of legal proceedings is more than $141,000. Mr. Kennelly also adjourned the sale of No. 12 Fifth-avenue, near Cliffton place. A similar foreclosure offering of connecting Clinton place property against the same owner resulted at a sale a couple of months ago.

These sales are billed to take place in the New York Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, to-day:

done it will materially affect prices in all the outside markets.

The cash sales for export to-day were $000 bushels No. 1 Northern Spring, on p.t., f. o. h. afloat. No. 2 red was quoted at 3½c, and 4c, over September f. o. b. afloat. No. 1 Northern Spring, New York, i.e. over do.; and ungraded red at 56½c, delivered; and unmerchantable at 55c, delivered; and unmerchantable at 55c, delivered.

New York clearances are: Wheat, 19,650 bushels; corn. none: oats, 35,000 bushels; and flour, 3,921 barrels and 5,749 sacks. September wheat closed in Chicago at 54½, and over on the curb after the close of the Board at 54½ and 54½, and 55½.

One of the first effects of stringency in the money market is the calling of loans in Chicago on the Northwestern wheat certificates, and as a consequence, round lots of No. 1 Northern were offered on that market to-day to the local elevator people.

Corn was weak at the start, but stronger later, and closed below the top prices. The receipts were 841 cars where 650 had been expected, and 736 cars are predicted for to-morrow.

Oats were relatively stronger than any of the other grains, and the offerings were light, while the elevator people and receivers were buying freely. The strength is due in great part to reported damage to the crop.

The advance in provisions is due to the strength of the hog market and to buying LARD. CHICAGO. WHEAT. OATS.

MOTHERS, Do You KNOW that Paregorie, Bateman's Drops, Godfre,'s Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labelling them poisons? Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed? Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle? Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. SAMUEL PITCHER. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined? Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government-protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmiess?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 33 cents, or one cent a dose? Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children will be kept well, and that you will have unbroken rest? Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts,
